HOLLINGER MINE IN FLAMES

Bodies Of Two Found

Raging Underground Inferno May Burn Many Days

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—Officials of the Hollinger Gold Mine, Limited here this afternoon stated that the latest message received from the mine was that it is burning on the fifth level was to the effect that 47 men had been unaccounted for.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Feb. 10.—In a long distance phone call to a reporter here, officials of the Hollinger mine stated that only two bodies had been recovered from the burning mine and that early reports of that disaster were erroneous. It was also stated that rescue gangs had been sent down the mine the day before, but for some days and that no one has come up since. Men were still trapped below.

TORONTO, Feb. 10.—A special despatch to the Toronto Star this afternoon from Timmins, Minn., said:

"The two men are believed trapped and four bodies have been recovered following a fire that broke out in one of the lower levels of the Hollinger mine at 10 a.m. today. The fire is still burning."

"Two persons are dead: Martin Stevens, shift boss, Timmins; Hiram Graham, foreman, who was found so unfeeling."

"The cause of the fire is given as spontaneous combustion. In an attempt to extinguish the flames where rubbish and powder boxes had accumulated."

Unknown.

No estimate of the damage done by the fire was given.

When smoke began drifting along the cut the miners quickly made a rush for the shaft. The overexerted cage was unable to take all the men, but those who reached the top fear that 20 of them remain buried in the flames.

Those employed are largely foreign miners, mostly Canadian, American and English workers.

The temperature at the mine was accompanied by heavy fumes and smoke which penetrated the mine and caused a temporary loss of serious handicap to efforts of rescue.

The body of Stevens was the first brought to the surface. He was found in a semi-conscious condition after a hurried examination.

Other officials concentrated on efforts to rescue the trapped men. There was no panic, and many operations were carried on in the dark.

More Deaths Feared.

Men brought to the surface spoke only of their safety, but from their speech it is apparent that any men left are probably in bad shape and may not live long off from their fellow-workers.

From present knowledge it is believed that there will be no more than five or six men left. They are being held in the lead-off man. It is expected that they will be rescued by the end of the day.

Four other accidents were reported during the day.

THREE MILLETS SHOT.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10.—The war department announced today that three rebels, identified as members of the Zapatista army, were killed in combat with Federal troops.

Two rebels were captured alive, but were given first aid and are being taken care of.

In the same city, several days as fire cleared through the forest level until the smoke clears up.

THREE FILMS BANNED.

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—"Film Publishing Co." of New York has been prohibited entry into Canada.

Spring and the First Panama Have Arrived

Did you see it? Spring must be here, as sure as straw hat made its appearance in the city Friday morning.

It crossed White Avenue at midday, head of a milkman, and was last seen disappearing up the hill.

It was a new Panama, the glad broadcast to the world that Edmonton now is basking in real spring-like weather.

Trustees Delay Action Until Next Annual Convention

Lasaling out at the present system of school board control, Mr. W. E. Turner, member of the Calgary school board, at the Friday morning session of the Alberta School Trustees' association succeeded in getting the trustees to agree to postpone the annual meeting of the association named to investigate provincial school insurance and to report at the 1929 convention.

The trustees voted to take out of the previous semi-$4,000,000 annually, Mr. Turner stated, and only comes back to the premium-payer, the school board, if the school board in the last 10 years has paid out $72,000 annually, and only if the school board has only $4,000 backlog. The same amount was allotted to each school.

The trial of the case was adjourned to April 10.

Mr. Turner suggested a system which would have the same results.

Mr. Turner's suggestion was accepted by the trustees.

STREET IMPROVEMENT

The city is co-operating with the Hudson Bay Company in providing street improvement in the area held by the company, in order that the building of homes may proceed. The will be little or no objection to that on the part of the taxpayers. The city's obligations are limited to grading, street intersections and road connecting streets, the remainder of the cost being met by local improvement taxes levied on the property. The filling of a large unoccupied area could not be secured at less expense, and it would be unthinkable that the city should be unwilling to give that customary amount of help when a company is proposing to make a heavy investment in homes for new tax-payers.

The city council is taking the initiative in this matter, so far as the tax-payers are concerned. Why not apply the same rule to the improvement of other areas? The city of "City" would be equally popular and equally advantageous if council would draw up a general program of street improvement and advertise its intention to pave certain streets unless the property-owners registered protest. The chances are that there would be very few protests, provided the program was drawn with a view to these improvements where they were most required. Under such a system street improvement could be undertaken in a systematic way, with a definite goal to be attained in the course of a number of years, and some progress would be made every year toward its attainment.

TWO TELEPHONE SYSTEMS OR ONE?

Hon. V. W. Smith, in the Legislature on Tuesday, made a generous offer to open negotiations with Edmonton, looking to the purchase of an entire telephone plant in the city, in addition to the one now in operation. What advantages would there be in this unionization, which prompt the proposal, or which make it worth while for the city to consider the offer?

The amalgamation, it is held, would be of great benefit, and the way of improved telephone service, both in Edmonton and outside. For one thing, the provincial system would be in position to install a complete, thoroughly modern, plan in the city. This, it is stated, would have to be done in any case in the future, as the present city plant is of an obsolete type and has about reached the point where expensive and costly replacements will have to be made. The city would avoid this heavy new investment in the system, if taken over by the province, an investment estimated to run to upwards of a million dollars.

Under the present arrangement the two systems have to carry duplicate offices, poles and equipment, while duplicates are necessary in billing, collecting accounts, and dealing with subscribers.

The provincial system must necessarily carry a staff of engineers for the development of its business throughout the province, which it is able to do. The city plant, as a single unit, cannot support this type of organization, and loses the advantage which might accrue from it.

The city system must have connection with the provincial system or it cannot function. An isolated telephone system would mean an isolated city. The larger system can carry on a much more effective campaign in the advertising field, and the development of the service, and in proportion as the telephone service inside and outside the city is extended, the business done in the city is increased.

At the present time the provincial system is carrying upwards of 300,000 telephone calls daily, and the city system, from and to other centres. The major portion of these messages bring orders to city merchants and wholesalers. The greater the facilities for this long distance communication, and the more thoroughly the district is covered by telephone, the more orders will come over the wires to Edmonton business houses.

Regarding rates, the larger system can undoubtedly handle a city unit more economically than this can be handled as a separate enterprise. No higher rates should therefore be necessary under provincial control than under municipal control.

No one can foresee what may happen in the development of the wireless telephone, or in the perfecting of new equipment which may revolutionize the telephone business. In the event of such a development, the rate situation would be as safe, if not safer, under provincial than under city ownership and operation.

Comparison is sometimes made between the rates charged in Edmonton and Calgary. Rates in the southern city are somewhat higher than here. But Calgary has for some time been enjoying a complete, modern system, with all up-to-date methods available. As a result of this perhaps there are 4,000 more telephones in use in Calgary than in Edmonton. It is claimed that if the service given the Calgary subscriber is analysed it will prove to be cheaper than that provided by the telephone in Edmonton.

The city is thus offered the opportunity to secure a more complete telephone service than it has, presumably at no higher rates, and to get a fair price for its system. Council would do well to look into this proposal without delay.

Liberals to Co-Operate With Gov't on Rail Problem

HOUSE HEARS DISPUTE OVER ROAD MONIES

George H. Webster and
Hon. O. L. McPherson speak

Premier Brownlee and the members of the government will have the full co-operation of Liberal members in solving the northern railway problem. Making a statement of his position on the intentions of Captain Joseph Shaw, Liberal leader, and his followers in the house, George H. Webster, ex-mayor of Calgary, speaking officially on behalf of the group, said he had accepted Premier Brownlee's plea for co-operation and assistance.

"We will meet the Premier's request in a genuine attempt at co-operation in this railway dispute with a view to the settlement of the interests of, and to the satisfaction of, all the participants in the affairs of the province," he said.

Generic Co-operation

In a speech to the house, assuring the people of this province as well as the members of this assembly that they were fully interested in these railway questions which are now before the house, he said: "We need the government in a genuine effort at real co-operation." In the course of his speech, Mr. Webster said: "In this matter I speak not only in my own mind, but I do it to let the members of the house know what Liberal colleagues in this assembly think."

"We are prepared to explore every question in the financial accounting of the railroads in the province," he said. "We have just launched in to a survey of government activities in the course of which we will make no secret of our objection from the Liberal group for expenditure on roads, bridges and so forth. We believe the government's efforts on behalf of public welfare should be aimed at the health and safety of the people should be safeguarded, and that the money spent on roads, bridges and so forth should be used for the welfare of the country constituents. In this matter I speak not only in my own mind, but I do it to let the members of the house know what Liberal colleagues in this assembly think."

Steve and Mike Andruschuk of Smoky Lake found it rather expensive to give Peter Andruschuk, a relative, a thrashing for Magistrate H. E. Bristow, who had sentenced the building was taken out by the Civic Club Friday.

Stephen Hill has entered suit against Mr. E. Bristow, alleging he has failed to pay a judgment given 1927 in his favor with interest, amounting to $457.50.

Tickets Off Fireworks
The last of the one thousand action of the committee in dismissing officials of hospitals was sufficient to bring down the heat of the house and the investigation should be strictly kept to the department of health and its office.

Mr. Webster then came to the main point of his speech. He said that resulted in unexpected fireworks and a short grilling before the meeting for Captain Shaw, Hon. L. McPherson, minister of public works.

Mr. Webster hit the match that would set off the fireworks. He turned up to the subject of highways and the verbal detonations followed. The two brothers of otherwise quiet careers were of sufficient size to bring down the Premier Brownlee, who had temporarily left his seat to do a little investigating. In his speech he was thinking all was sailing peacefully on, but that one sailing speech was in progress.

The Calgarian delivered his speech in a manner that would have been fitting for a political orator.

H. L. McCool, Cochrane, in his speech, however, did not get to the throne, of the fact that in the last three years the government had raised motor license fees about $4,000,000 and that the same amount had been returned on the construction and maintenance of highways and roads, while the Alberta Highways Act had been revised from capital to revenue.

Says Figures False

Mr. Webster admitted that the figures were false, but he would endeavor to place the correct ones before the house.

Including interest and having regard for capital expenditures on the maintenance of buildings, fixtures and market roads, the government had spent $1,870,000 under the Alberta Highways Act in the last three years, and for the same period had received from the same source $1,800,000 in direct taxes, $2,448,363.09, or in other words, the difference between the government and the citizens less than 50 per cent of direct taxation, while the amount that had been diverted to other activities.

In 1927 the gas tax had yielded $423,700 and the motor license fees $1,000,000, or a total of $1,870,000. In this same period the amount of $388,000, thus leaving us as a contribution to general revenue.

In 1927 the gas tax amounted to $423,700 and the motor license fees $1,000,000, or a total of $1,870,000. In this same period the amount of $388,000, thus leaving us as a contribution to general revenue.

Makes Suggestions
Mr. Webster said criticism was of no value and that some suggestions being made and will be taken into view in his purpose to suggest a solution.

However, regardless of which approach is taken, the better the keeper, the battle was nably waged and the more effective the Premier Webster left the chamber with the members of his party in tow while the members of the opposition, colleagues, mapping his bows and arrows, were in a state of alarm, members, ministers and even Premier.

The debate was adjourned by Lucas Bourneau, St. Albert.

Nancy Louie Went to Fort
Nancy Louie went to Fort Vermilion, Alberta, on Saturday morning to serve 20 days in debtors' prison for $100 imposed by Magistrate Edward of Fort McMurray. The woman was found guilty of selling liquor

CLOSE CALL!

STORMY CLOSE TO DEBATE ON THRONE SPEECH

Dunning Brands Criticism
as "False"—Forke Defends Policy

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—After a day of debate and without a division of the house, the Liberals Thursday night adopted the resolution of the throne. The last day was a day of moments and threatening storms, although the weather quietly.

It had been thought that the speech of Hon. C. A. Dunning, minister of railways, alighted on a statement of the House of Commons as "absolutely false."

There were two speeches.

Withdrawal Demanded

Hon. G. H. Webster, opposition leader, demanded withdrawal, and he thought it would be better to act as a protest. Hon. J. S. Forke gravely observed Speaker Lemire and the expression was withdrawn.

Discussion, as on previous days, covered the question of the McConachie case—where a four-year-old boy was deformed as a result of drinking alcohol—and the welfare of the country constituents.

In this matter I speak not only in my own mind, but I do it to let the members of the house know what Liberal colleagues in this assembly think.

Stephen Hill has entered suit against Mr. E. Bristow, alleging he has failed to pay a judgment given 1927 in his favor with interest, amounting to $457.50.

BULL'S EYES

Repairs to the residence of Hon. H. Smith, 1130 4th Street, Edmonton, are being undertaken immediately.

J. Schleicher contemplates constructing a $2,800 brick building in the rear of his store windows.

Minor alterations and amendments to the Liquor Act may be proposed by the Legislature at the present session of the legislature.

It is expected that the annual report of the department of education will be presented to the Legislature on Monday next by Hon. Peter Baker, minister.

No objection to the employee of the Liquor Control Board being made to the new legislation, being standardised in the scheme for standardisation will be raised by the board hereafter, it is expected, at the meeting Thursday evening.

ESTIMATES OF EXPENSES UP BY $7,000,000

Robt Shows Public Debt Interest Cut by Three Millions

EDMONTON, Feb. 10.—In the main estimates for 1928-29, ending March 31, 1929, tabulated in the House of Commons last night, several items of expense were increased. The department of agriculture will pay $1,000,000 more in interest this year, which is an increase of $400,000 over last year. The increase is accounted for by the cost of research for experimental farms and increased costs of administration and trout work. Under the heading of "other" there was a cut. Most of this amount will be spent on the relief of unemployed, including grants to societies, such as those authorized by the government to help the unemployed. The department received $14,268,000 more than it had budgeted, $1,000,000 to be spent on health insurance.

Worl Pensions Up

World pensions are again higher, nearly $1,000,000 more than on pensions resulting from the late war. The increase of $2,000,000 next year.

It was shown that interest on the national debt will be $1,000,000 more than last year. The estimated interest of national debt will be paid $18,700,000 in the next fiscal year—an increase of $400,000 over last year. During the year the national defence vote was $1,000,000 more than last year. The defence department are spread over several branches of the service. The cost of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police is $1,000,000 more than last year. The cost of the Royal Canadian Air Force is $1,000,000 more than last year. The cost of flying reserves an increase of $400,000. The military vote is increased by $1,000,000.

For the Great Lakes terminal, yet unannounced—the sum of $1,000,000 appears in the estimates for the department of public works.

GAS COMPANY SAYS SUPPLY NOW CERTAIN

The present transmission piping, with its capacity of 1,000,000 cubic feet per day, is sufficient to take care of the load which may be expected next winter, and the company would not be justified in constructing a duplicate main line if the new rate of supply of the Northwest Utilities told the members of the Bylaws committee Thursday night in outlining the plans which had been taken to guard against a situation in which occurred early in January, when a gas main broke.

A series of questions had previously been directed to the company by the City Commissioners dealing with company's future.

To Instal Street Gas. Mr. Tom Jones, president of his company at present negotiating with a view of purchasing a portion of the gas system, said the telephone line had been constructed so that immediate communication could be effected between every part of the system. "It does not appear to be immediate," he said, "but when we have our pipe line, it will be sufficient to take care of winter load." Mr. Jones stated that the new season had just begun, and while they expected an increase of ten per cent over their present gas consumers last year, he considered the pipe substitution.

In answer to a question by Alderman Mr. Young, he declared that the company had not substituted one inch pipe for another, but had substituted 1/2-inch pipe from an engineering point of view. He said the 1/2-inch pipe was not available at the time, and the construction of the new system had been delayed until first secured the consent of the city council.

It was also agreed that the rate of gas would be fixed only on the 1/2-inch pipe construction, but Mr. Jones declared the substitution of in other cases by Alderman Mr. Young, who declared that the company had not substituted one inch pipe for another, but had substituted 1/2-inch pipe from an engineering point of view.

The smaller pipe did not affect the base rate, as the estimated cost with the larger pipe was not sufficiently increased even when the smaller pipe was used.

Pipes and arrangements will be made for either enlarging the base rate or reducing it if it is found necessary to do so.

Mr. Jones declared the substitution of the use of compressors would increase the pressure in the main line.

Would Increase Rates

He said the company's rates were not likely to have a duplicate main line installed, as the cost would mean the addition of $2,000,000 to the capital charges which would result in a large increase to gas consumers, and he advised them to show to the public to insist on consumers to pay such a percentage to secure the same safeguarding as the public utility.

After lengthy discussion the committee passed the following resolution which will be forwarded to the city council: "That we express the opinion that the means of safety and protection of the public health, the assurance of the company that it is safe to eat a raw meal, and the maintenance of the health of the community are sufficient grounds for the company's decision to install a new system."

Mr. Gibbs also succeeded in having a resolution adopted requiring the company to bring in a report with respect to the new system, and in obtaining the consent given by the city council for the substitution of 1/2-inch pipe for the original plan which the original plan called for.

When considering this nature a very thorough examination is necessary to locate the original of the trouble. We sometimes find that an X-ray will reveal the cause.

During our many years of experience we have found that the average case of sciatica can be treated in a few days.

If any one of these symptoms continues, however, the doctor should be consulted.

After locating and adjusting the cause, the symptoms

Million Dollar Boxing Gates Are Now About Through

LACK OF GOOD ATTRACTIONS IS REASON, SAYS RICKARD

Promoter's Dream of $3,000,000 Gate Fades With Passing of Dempsey—Tunney and Jack Could Not Draw Over Two Million

By HENRY L. FARRELL

EXCLUSIVE TO BULLETIN

NEW YORK Feb. 9.—In direct answer to the difficulties attending any attempt to stage a heavyweight championship bout in our season, Tex Rickard let it all out that he didn't expect to draw more than $2,000,000. He added that the other one of the two fights he has demanded will be the last.

When he disclosed it to the press, he said, Rickard admitted candidly that for the present at least he has had aside the hope of reaching the $3,000,000 gate that he predicted before Dempsey-Tunney and Tunney-Jack met staged in New York.

DEMPSEY BEST STATE MAN SAYS RICKARD

Rickard has a very cordial way about him, and unlike the attitude of the New York Giants in their recent fight, he is frank and friendly.

"I am a frank man of all of them," Rickard said, "but I don't believe he draws more than $2,000,000. I am sure that Tunney again and anybody else who wants to can get it."

It was to put one of his rights in the Yankee Stadium and the best I can do sealing the door, he said, that he gave the check two million. The other boxes which drew an average of $1,000 each were the result of the news of the battles of the titans which were general enough that the week he had been recruited as promoters in other sections of the country.

"Looks like it right now," he answered. "Can't get the people who like to go to the games."

When he was asked what was the matter with the cards he had drawn, he said: "I have not made no secret of his opinion of either."

"Well, Dempsey isn't like he used to be," he said.

Market Declines

Dempsey then admitted that Dempsey brought on the decline in the market, and that he and Tex Rickard declines the market is declining with him.

Tex Rickard then arose when they was Dempsey or Jack Tunney, who was really ready to go to his office with the price of losing to a piece on the New York Stock Exchange list.

"Kearns hadn't made his demands," Rickard said. "He wanted to take only a small part of a million-dollar gate. Rickard never would have had the nerve to ask for $40 for tickets.

Bud Taylor Lost Feather Title at Chicago Last Night

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Joe Sanger of Milwaukee, contender for the featherweight championship, was declared winner by a technical decision over Bud Taylor, the ninth round of a scheduled 16-round bout.

Taylor at the time fell victim to what was believed to be foul play, but was ordered to continue fighting after a five-minute rest. It was ruled that the judges awarded the victory to Sanger because Taylor had been twice knocked down.

Winnipeg Bonspiel is Hammered by Soft Ice.

Many Veterans Lose

WINNIPEG, Feb. 10.—The highlight was at its height yesterday evening when the annual curling classic was completely hampered, with many of the teams unable to play because of the soft ice. At many of the rinks, the ice was covered with pools of water.

The game was played between the team of the Canadian Pacific and the afternoon draw, and Melton, Manitoba, came through with a win. He continued his success in the Birks draw, defeating the team of Souris, Manitoba, in a tight 11-10 match.

A Manitoba University aggregation provided the downfall of Flin Flon, Saskatchewan, in the night rink.

The coast skip was eliminated in the first draw, and he was unable to come through with a win. He continued his success in the Birks draw, defeating the team of Vernon, who suffered another defeat, losing to the team of Flin Flon in the Hudson Bay competition.

Kearns Wins $40

Dempsey Wins Again. Kearns came back, "if Kearns hadn't put up the big dough like some Dempseys, we'd have a better chance," said Willard going when he got the big red and held out until he got it.

It was suggested that even if Dempsey might not be a business man enough or dumb enough to take only a small part of a million-dollar gate, Rickard still might be fighting for ten and fifteen-dollar tops.

Rickard listened to all of it and then said:

"You may see the fighters, but you won't see the business men depend entirely on the support of boxing. He doesn't want to be dependent on the public. That's the future, but promoters in other sections of the country are losing money and they believe that the business is declining rapidly."

Want the Fighter

"If Kearns hadn't made his demands, I think he would have been a million-dollar gate," Rickard never would have had the nerve to ask for $40 for tickets.
